A PROACTIVE AND PROTECTIVE RESPONSE TO CONCERNING SEXUAL BEHAVIOURS

CHILD SAFETY IN THE DIGITAL AGE

presented by Liz Walker & Megan Williamson

Educators, clinicians, health professionals and parents are witnessing concerning sexual behaviour trends amongst children and young people. The normalisation of hypersexualised media, sexting and pornography results in our children being more vulnerable to online and physical environment sexual abuse than ever before. Around the globe, governments, educators and health professionals are recognising pornography as a serious child safety and public health issue. As an introduction to this complex issue, this session provides relevant, research based training for educators and anyone who works with children and youth.

We will discuss how concerning sexual behaviours are manifesting in children's lives, the consequences, and how adults may further develop their ability to respond proactively and protectively.

TAILORED FOR SCHOOLS, CHURCHES, AND CHILD & YOUTH FOCUSED ORGANISATIONS

This workshop serves as an introduction to this diverse topic, informing and equipping participants to:

1. Understand the researched impacts of pornography on child safety, mental health, concerning sexual behaviours and child development.
2. Respond proactively and protectively to physical and online environments.
3. Gain knowledge and practical tools on how to identify children at risk and respond.
4. Gain strategies to engage and equip children, youth and parents.
5. Gain access to preventative and protective resources that minimise the opportunity for children and young people to be harmed.

This innovative and proactive professional development is a community response to three child safety initiatives. We outline relevant items of The National Principles for Child Safe Organisations, new overarching guidelines based on the Royal Commission Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse Child Safe Standards. In addition, this workshop strengthens your organisations capability to effectively manage the risks and harms of online and physical environments, and improve compliance with the Queensland Child and Youth Risk Management Strategy.

Further and deeper training is available for those who identify a desire to remain on the cutting edge of child, youth and parent education which supports child safety in the digital age.
